

Inter Being, A Landscape Based Journey 2021

Daniel Brinsmead

Artist Statement

I love to travel and paint. I also paint what I call my home, the North Coast region, my lifelong connection with the place I was born and raised, roamed, surfed, relied on for solace and healing, a place that sets the imagination free.

The pathway of creativity comes directly from total experience, where felt senses, broader energetic senses, and intuitive experience become the dominant focus of interest and expression. I take a subject of interest and paint the way I feel and intuit about it, in a natural, direct, instinctive way.

These artworks represent my love for the Tweed Coast and the rich, colourful, stunning beauty of the surrounding natural environment.
